The Markers Were Placed, The Bell Rang;

The Students Moved Forward . . .

- At the sound of the bell, Robert Leaphart, Mike Hubbard, and friends, advance one class.
- At a football game, the pep squad illuminates a dark night with an expression of Poly pride.
- The vocalist from "Freeway" entertains at the Homecoming Dance.
- Leslie Sullivan and Brian Crance catch "Disco Fever" at the Homecoming Dance.

According to Hoyle, "games have many forms and are played differently in different lands and communities, but the basic principle is the same everywhere." Poly High School provides the game board, and sets directions for its players, as the students advance toward their educational goals. While all follow administrative guidelines, each student must develop his own strategy and set his own pace. Thus, the game plans are diversified and games of skill and games of chance, games for few players and games for many players, are all used in the process of advancement at Poly.

- ↑ Playing peek-a-boo, Geoff Holtzrichter catches the camera's eye.
- ↑ Worried about the California sun, Randy Ingram plays hide and seek behind tinted shades.
- ↓ Poly spirit lights up the sky at Homecoming.

- Gordy Pulsifer and Randy Harvey look for likely feminine prospects in the dating game.
- ↑ Wondering what the next move will be, this Polyite strolls along one pace and prepares for another turn.
  - ↓ Feeling an air of Sophomore superiority, Chip Hord anticipates the added glory of becoming a Junior.

- Lisa Rochford, Laura Metcalf, Dana Rasp, and Jeff Jones show their style of people watching as they advance in their senior year.
- Claire Binder mimed her way through the picnic activities, which is difficult for a freshman girl.
- Bobby Alvarez and Mary Jane Flores enjoy a tender moment.

The day was sunny and pleasant for our homecoming activities. It began with a parade of colorful floats. Next a picnic with all the trimmings. There was food, drink, sack races, a pep rally, a make-up booth, a pumpkin pie contest, pumpkin carving contest, and friends both old and new. The day turned into night and the excitement mounted. The football team played Barstow, which to the disappointment of all, we lost. The half-time show crackled with anticipation as the queen was announced. There was fireworks which graced the evening with class, and the Poly band provided the music. But, before the evening came to a close there was the annual homecoming dance for students and alumni. The band "Freeway" played the popular disco and mellow songs of the time. And as the day finished the students of Poly had many memories of this day.

The Spirit Week, sponsored by the Pep Squad, was held during the week of March 12-16. Monday was pajama day and events included blindfold contest and bottle drinking. Tuesday was twin day and events included a 3-legged race and a yogurt toss.

Wednesday was surfer day and events included a skateboard contest and an egg toss. Thursday was crazy hat day and there was a pie eating contest and kiss-a-pig. Friday was 50's day and there was a dance that evening. The Sophomores won with 58 points, the Freshmen followed with 52. Juniors had 47, and the Seniors pulled through with 31.

- ↓ Bob Bushman and Bob Ritzau are always near to make sure things go smoothly

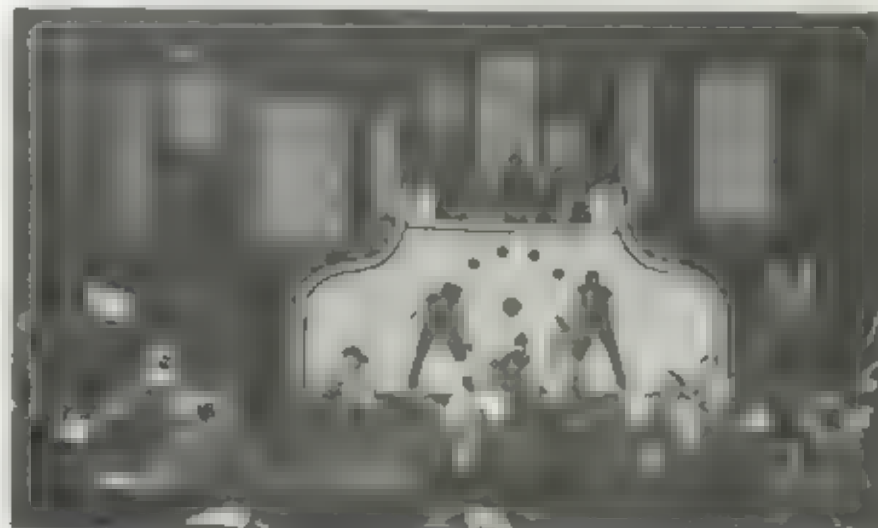

Poly began an intramural program this year. The idea came from Bob Ritzau and Bob Bushman, and they ran all the events. The freethrow tournament was won by Walt Linaeweaver. Backgammon was won by David Eckmann in the advanced and Jeff Meachem in the novice division. Volleyball advanced division was won by Bob Bushman and Coach Almquist and David Pooley and Finn Comer took the novice division. Danny Metsch won the frisbee golf tournament. Events held during 4th quarter included water polo, baseball, chess, tennis, ping-pong, and frisbee.

Teddy bullies Lyle in order to persuade him to hurry with the repair of his van. Angel elegantly prepares a tasty meal for the diners at Foster's.

"When You Comin' Back, Red Ryder" was the second production of Poly Theatre. It was performed in the newly opened Studio One. The show ran in repertory with "Of Mice and Men" and was set in a petting diner in New Mexico. The date was the early 60's. ## Out At Poly

Poly Jesters and I.T.S. have had a busy and productive year. Jesters took many theatre related trips to such places as N B C Studios, Los Angeles, and the University of Redlands. They saw performances of Annie, Timbuktu, Vanities, Steambath, and Company. In fund raising events Jesters excelled. They sponsored a Musical-Comedy dance class, a Mime Workshop, an Acting Workshop, and finally they hosted a performance of the dance troupe "Encore Players." The experience and technique gained from these workshops was shown by the high honors earned at the Ramona High School Masquers and the R C C festival/competitions. They also benefited financially. I.T.S. went on a retreat to the mountains. The intermediate acting class put on "Dark of the Moon" which depicted the love between a mortal girl and a witch boy

- The Freshmen cheerleaders show the audience that they are very seldom synchronized

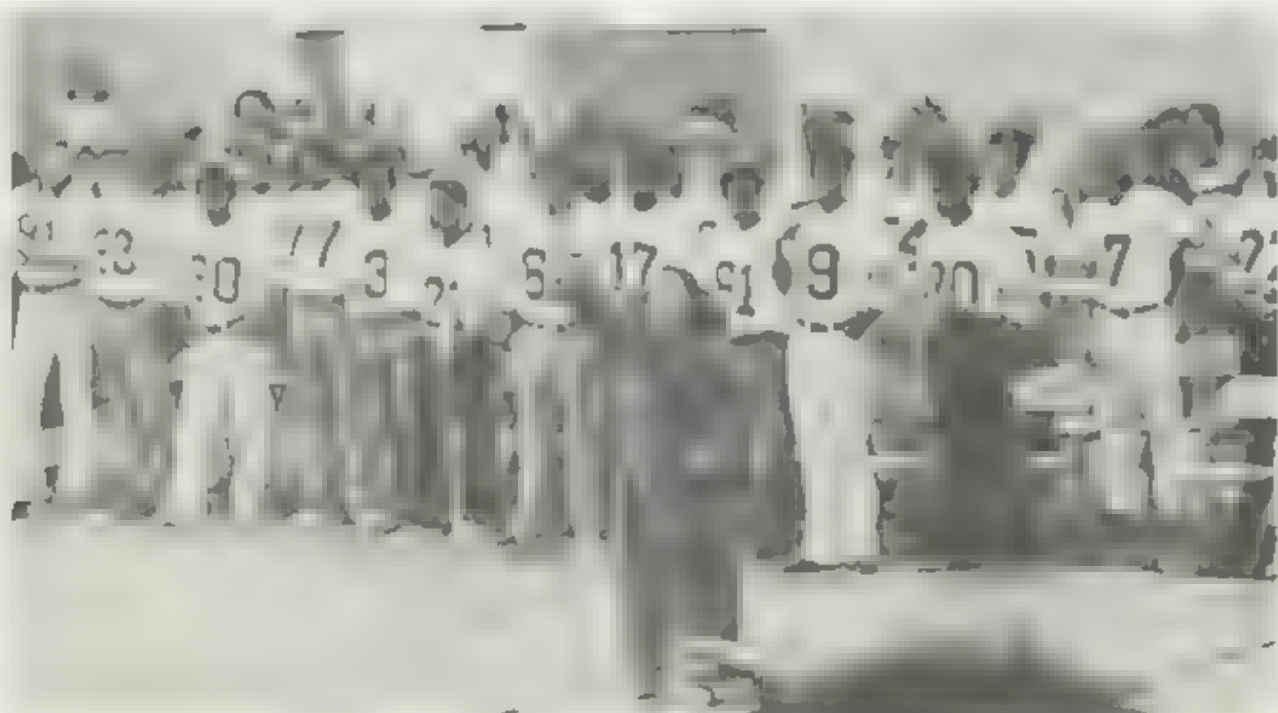

This year Poly had to make a switch in the Commissioners of Assembly. The original commissioner, Jan Clarence, graduated mid-term, so an election was held to put the responsibility on somebody else. Jeff Miller became the Commissioner of Assemblies for the second semester. Assemblies that were held later in the year involved a comedy and mime show put on by Radio Free M*I*M*E, and a concert of gospel music by the Compton Boy's Choir.

This school year was the year for students and faculty to get involved. The year began with the student-faculty tennis tournament. The matches were all doubles and all three divisions played round-robin with single set competition. The winners were: student-student division, Joe Nelson and Libby Joseph; student-faculty division, Tim Hanigan and Barbara Clarence; and the faculty-faculty division, Ray Harris and Marjorie Kross. The next sports event was the inter-class track meet which was to determine the ruling class. In the competition between the classes, the Freshman competed against the Sophomores, and the Juniors competed against the Seniors. In this competition the Freshman and the Juniors won with scores respectively (Fr.) 198-(Soph.) 188 and (Jr.) 178-(Sr.) 162. The ruling that finalized the score is: if a relay team member hands off to a non-member, that team shall be disqualified. Because of this ruling, the Juniors were declared the champs and the ruling class for the '78-'79 school year. The class rankings went: Juniors (18 pts.), Seniors (14 pts.), Freshman (13 pts.) and the Sophomores (12 pts.)

The Athletic

Ted Miner concentrates on his breathing and does not realize that he is running on air.

Junior Terry Shaw puts forth total effort for the sake of his class in the inter-class track meet.

Stever Nordeen, science teacher and coach, is forced to take a detour because student Eric Edwards blocks his path to the basket.

Administrator Joe Ficarra cringes with disbelief as he loses his tennis match to a student in the student-faculty tennis tournament held in the fall.

During the inter-class track meet the girls in the 440 relay (left to right with batons) Karen Williams, Cathy Crisman, and Linda Harding. On the steam wheel jump Ortman slows down and Laura Rines turns her head to flirt. Faculty members (left to right) Laura Otte, Steve Koehler, Bob Riley, and Tom Tilson stare with amazement as student Gregory Thomas makes a flying leap towards the basket.

Way To Victory

Another athletic event which involved both students and faculty was the student-faculty basketball game. The faculty won with a score of 25 to 24. The low score is because the game was played during a single lunch. The announcer was the humorous Tom Bennett. Attendance: Lots of people cheering and loud. Top scorers: (Fac.) Joe Giant- (Stud.) Randy Harvey. Top Foulers: (Fac.) Steve Nordeen (3)-(Stud.) Walt Linaweaver (4).

Commission

- ↑ Jeremy Olson, Commissioner of Publicity, and Linda Morrow, Commissioner of Pep, show enthusiasm for their jobs.

The Instrumental Music Department is composed of Orchestra, Stage Band, Wind Ensemble, and Concert Band. All of the groups performed at a Christmas Concert, a Pop Concert, and a Spring Concert here at Poly, besides various other festivals throughout the year. To raise money for going on tour, all the groups sponsored fund raisers. Stage Band played during most home basket ball games and for community groups. Pojai Pookakupt, and AFS student from Thailand, played piano for the orchestra during her stay at Poly.

The Spirit Of Poly

Carolyn Kightlinger, Terri Thurman (Parliamentarian), Pam Barnett, Angela Morris (President), Mark Bender (Historian)

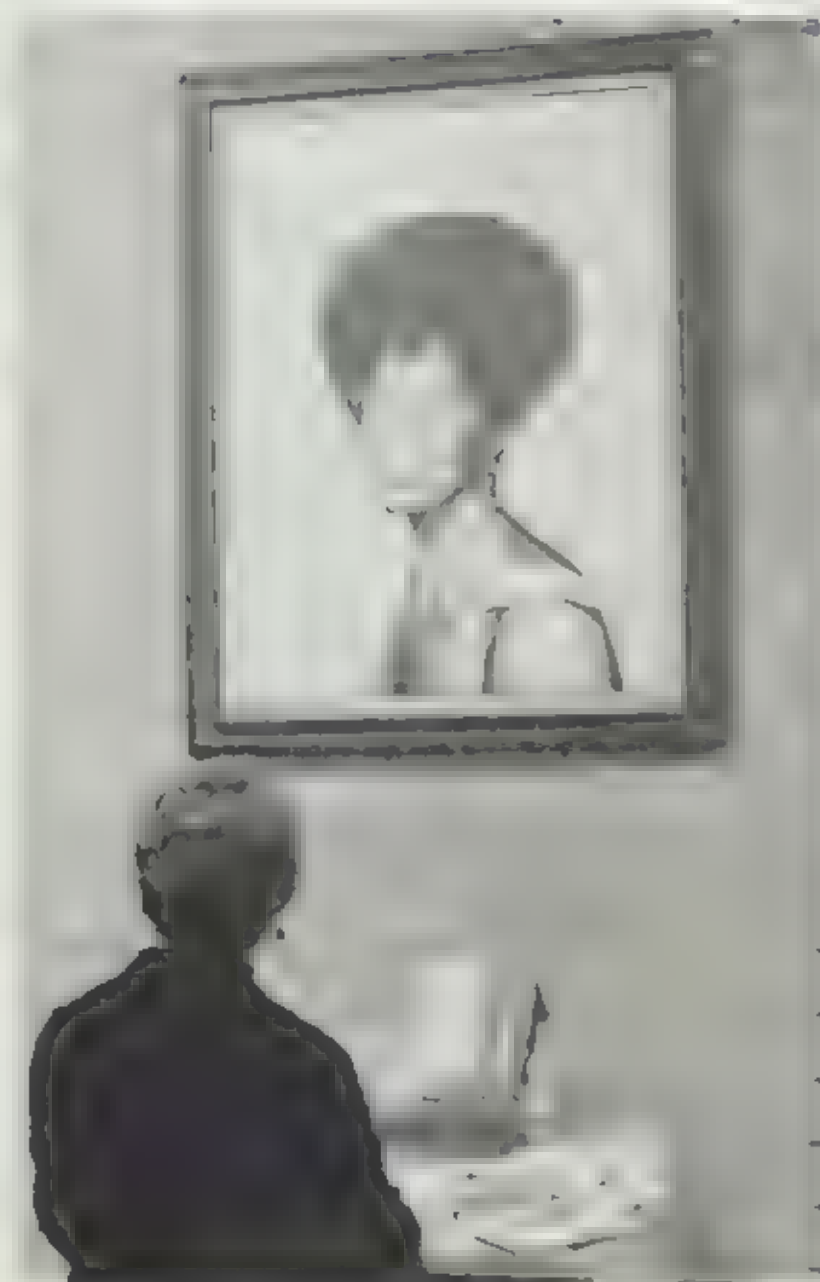

Patti Monroe (Not Shown), Delorie Barber (Vice-President), Marie DiPidova (Reporter), Lisa Thomas

The F.B.L.A. (Future Business Leaders of America), shown on the lower left hand page, contained only students who were enrolled in a business class. This year they attended the convention in Anaheim and took two 3rd places. Patty Peters took 3rd in office procedures and Laura Swaney took 3rd in accounting. The F B L A. also sponsored the successful 50's Day Dance and were involved in Several other school events

The Activities Council, shown below, is responsible for helping the Commission plan most of the activities. They were mainly responsible for the great decorations at the Homecoming Dance and the Midwinter Ball. They also organized the student-faculty basketball game and helped to plan the activities for single lunches. This is the club to belong to if anyone wishes to become more involved in the Student Government

Lives On

Irma L. Sutton, born in 1937, began teaching at Poly in September of 1970. Before she had started her teaching at Poly she taught at Sierra Middle School and North High School. Mrs. Sutton began at Poly as a teacher of French, Black Studies, Black History, and was also a part time counselor. She soon became recognized as an excellent counselor and, other than teaching French, devoted all her time to helping students. Mrs. Sutton also became very active as a BSU Club sponsor. She was not only respected in the school, she was also known as a marvelous poet. Her short book of poetry, Requiem for a Fine Lady, glows with a personal intensity that will ignite the imagination of every reader. The book is divided into 4 parts: (1) Fine ladies, (2) Ghetto life, (3) speaking to Muhammad Ali, Her best known poem, Requiem for a Fine Lady, was published in U.S. in Clover '76 along with other poems by famous poets. Mrs. Sutton's blossoming career was suddenly ended in the summer of 1978 when she was involved in a fatal automobile collision. In order to rightly remember the beloved Irma Sutton a memorial was erected in her honor. Donated to the memorial was a lovely portrait painted by Karl Marshall. Below the portrait a plaque contains the words: "Requiem for a Fine Lady"/Irma L. Sutton/1937-1978/Poet-Teacher/Counselor-Friend. This portrait and these words shall allow Irma L. Sutton to live on in the hearts and minds of students for many years.

Poly Clubs Helped

The Key Club is a group sponsored by the Riverside Kiwanis Club. Their main project during the year was the Key Club Calendar, in which they featured pictures of attractive senior girls, and dates of all the sporting events. They also help the handicapped children at the Special Olympics held at Ramona Stadium. Their services were also provided at this year's Lester Oaks Parade, and they did valet parking at the Riverside Junior League Ball at the Mission Inn.

Those In "Jeopardy"

Volunteers. Rhonda Mansfield, Karen Kjos, Lisa Frick, Pam Flory, Karen McKeel, (Not Shown) Pam Maxwell, Dana Dicarro, Susie Johns

Poly's Volunteer Club offered their services at Community and General Hospitals. All of the services that they provided to aid the hospital staffs were voluntary. Their help and kindness saved the hospital a great deal of time and money, and thus allowed the hospital to buy new and advanced equipment that may save the lives of many patients. Their services are greatly appreciated by many of the people associated with the hospital. A few of the services included passing out the food, visiting patients, and cleaning rooms.

Girls' League Mrs. Sara Mills, Julie Young, Vicki Montague, Kelli Holden (President), Lilian Sims, Sabrina Nathanson, Sue Stuart, Yvette Shook

Poly's Girls' League provided their services within the school. Every girl at Poly is automatically a member of this club, however most of the work was done by these seven girls. The candy canes that are distributed during the Christmas drive were sold through this club. The annual Christmas drive they sponsor provided food, toys and clothes for the needy ones, so they too could enjoy the holiday. The Girls' League also held an annual Apple Polishing Tea in which all of the faculty was provided with a shiny apple, and served punch and cookies. The main goal of Poly's Girls' League was to promote spirit within the school, and they did this quite effectively.

CLASS

THE CLASS OF 1979

Senior officers monkey around. David
Secretary Alan Christ, Social
Jordy Pulster, President, and Heather Boyd.

As the school year of 1979 drew to a close many Seniors were quick to say their goodbyes to their Alma Mater. But, if they were to look back over the years, the "KHAKI" class had much to be proud of. During our freshmen year, we showed our spirit by winning the Homecoming skit and float. As sophomores we diligently sold candy bars in preparation for our "unique" prom, and as juniors, we won Spirit Week. Though our Senior year seemed lacking in spirit we accomplished many feats, we saw the birth of the Harvey Harford fan club and the end of conventional float building. Overall the class of 79 has a lot to be proud of and all will remember their years at Poly with great pride.

Friday, the thirteenth of October, was the day the seniors put their curse on the freshman class. A cast of seniors, dressed up as frantic freshmen, looked on as witches brewed the upperclassmen's idea of freshmen. While a storm bellowed in the background, the witches cooked the ingredients to come up with the result: PHLEGM.

A 3x4 grid of 12 black and white portrait photographs of students. The students are arranged in three rows and four columns. The first row shows four students with various hairstyles, including long hair and a bob. The second row features four students, some with bangs and others with shoulder-length hair. The third row includes four students, with one wearing a dark headband and another with a thick necklace. The images are slightly faded and have a grainy texture.

Sophomores Played

t-shirts and yelling at pep assemblies. But they resigned themselves to the Junior class by coming in second place with their float "Dracula." Many Sophomores had other interests on their minds instead of float building. The Homecoming season brings out the best and worst in us all.

To the notorious Freshmen who never got anything straight all year we dedicate this mixed up section to you. When various Freshmen were asked about their first year at Poly responses ranged from Kerry Gallagher feeling "lost" and thinking this year was "confusing" to Tom Johnson asking "can we cuss?" Kathy Morgan and Kitty Bernath decided Poly is "better than Gage". When Kim Kamrath was asked to comment on her class she said "never mind". Allyson Pooley and Evelyn O'Leary both agreed they had fun their first year at Poly. Terry Daniels thought her year was easy, while Andrea Aguilar said it was different than she had expected harder. What did Freshmen learn about float building? Jennifer Holzrichter, freshmen class president, asked us not to mention the float. Bang Little had fun building the float, even though no one actually knew what they were doing. As far as Freshmen status or lack of status is concerned Grace Rosales knows "a few Juniors she would like to can". Bang Little thought he would "get picked on much more" and Blake Campbell is glad his Freshmen year is ending so he can have more seniority next year. In retrospect the class of 1982 seems to have a lot going for them and should succeed during their next three years at Poly.

↑ "Am I a wild and crazy guy?" asks Josh Olson.

Varsity Endured The Year

After being the 1977 Ivy-League Champs, the Poly Bears had alot of pressure on them to see if they could regain the title once more. Led by Coach Barry Meier, the Bears tried to perform their best, but first they had to overcome a few obstacles. This was to be "The Year," which was to surpass all other years. Through the determination and effort of the coaches, players, and supporters, the Bears ended up finishing their season with a record of 6-4

Poly was on an up and down season because they were still trying to find themselves, but as soon as Robert Leaphart began running the Bear's veer offense, Poly picked up the slack by presenting a three-game winning streak. Tim Howard and Tim Hoover have led a number of "one play offensive drives." The leadership of the captains Tim Hoover, Greg Matulich, Robert Leaphart, and Brian MacLean added to the aggressive defensive unit

The Bears came back, winning these three crucial games for qualifying for CIF as a wildcard pick. Steve Garland and Tim Howard were named to the first team All-Ivy League offense with Robert Leaphart and Pat Maietta on first team defense. Tim Hoover made both second team offense and defense and Ken Adcock made second team defense

Everything In Its Path

This year's Varsity Water Polo team got off to another outstanding start by winning the Riverside Invitational and La Serna Tournaments. The Aqua Bears defeated last year's C.I.F. 3A champion, Indio, in both tournament finals. They carried this momentum into league play by posting a perfect 7-0 record to take the Ivy League title. Standouts Bret Benter, Dave Greene, Jim Edwards, and Rick Randel all received all league first team honors, while Doug Paulson was voted the Ivy League most valuable player of the year. Coach Dave Almquist led his team into the C.I.F. playoffs, and advanced them all the way to the finals against El Dorado. In a grueling overtime game El Dorado defeated Poly by a score of 18-13. This year's Varsity soccer team started off as a young and inexperienced squad. With the leadership of Coach Tom Tilson the Bear's matured and proved to be one of the Ivy League's strongest teams. The team finished their season in third place and advanced to the C.I.F. playoffs where they were defeated by Wilson High School. All League players were Tom Napoli, George Yarmanos, and Jeff DeBellis. Second team honors went to Brian Crance, Don Barry, Craig Thompson, and Mark Pede, while Paul Cotton and Chris Brown received Honorable Mention.

To C.I.F. Playoffs

This year's Junior Varsity team had an excellent season posting an 8-0-2 League record. The team had many fine players that should develop into talented players and help the Varsity squad in years to come.

This year's Freshman Basketball team consisted of: Donald Young, Nate Nix, John Myers, Dale Teague, Steve Gaberialson, George Self, Steve Hughes, Dean Birdick, Pat Malone, Richie Ortega, Clint Simmons, and Coach David Mickelson. The team was 6-1 and took first place in their league

Golfers Took It All

A strong group of players walked the links this year. Led by top golfers, David Pooley and Bruce Tait, this year's golf team captured the Burbank tournament championship. Many juniors are expected to return next year and be a very strong team. Although the golf season was not over, the undefeated team was expected to go into C.I.F. play

AquaBears Dominated

Dave Almquist, coach of the league champion boy's swim team, felt that his team was solid and tough in league. In CIF, the team placed ninth overall with fifth place in the freestyle relay of Andy Reickes, Bob Ward, Dave Greene, and Bret Benter, and eighth with the medley relay of Jay Butki, Dave White, Doug Francisco and Greene.

Individual accomplishments in CIF were from Francisco with twelfth in the 50 yard freestyle. In the 100 freestyle Benter placed eleventh. Ward and Francisco finished ninth and eleventh in the 100 butterfly, with Jeff Scott placing eighth in the 500 yard freestyle.

This year's swim team had a lot of strong swimmers, and expect many good returning varsity swimmers for next year. Varsity finished the season with a league record of 10-1, with Bob Ward and David Greene as the most valuable swimmers for the season.

The Ivy League

Following the Varsity's footsteps, the Jay Vee swim team took first place in the Ivy League. These fine swimmers showed their potential and strength by going undefeated with a league record of 5-0.

The Freshmen also went undefeated in the Ivy League with a league record of 5-0. These swimmers proved themselves by showing their aggressiveness and determination.

This year's Varsity Girls' Volleyball team had a smashing season. With an overall record of 12 wins out of 14 matches, they became Ivy champs and qualified for C.I.F. Their attempt at winning C.I.F. was thwarted by rigorous first round competition in the form of Sonora High School, who edged past the Poly girls in a close 2-1 match. Though not matching up to their Varsity counterparts, the girls' J.V. Volleyball team had a relatively successful year with much potential for next year's Varsity team. On Varsity, Angela Meander was chosen both team M.V.P. and Ivy League M.V.P. in addition to making Ivy league 1st team. Julie Ortman also made Ivy league 1st team and Sue Davidson made Ivy League 2nd team.

And Girls Won C.I.F.

They did it! That's right, the Girls' Varsity Basketball team went all the way this year. Now we're not talking League, we're not talking regionals, we're talking all the way to the C.I.F. championships. KOALA proudly presents this page to those magnanimous cagers of the feminine gender that devastated all of their opponents on the way to first place in C.I.F. The Varsity team had a 28-3 overall record, a 13-1 League record, and a 5-0 record in C.I.F. Among Poly's toughest competitors were Righetti and Alta Loma who the girls met in the C.I.F. semi finals and finals. Among the honors bestowed upon members of the Varsity team, were team M.V.P. and

All Ivy League to Marsha Overton, most improved to Meg Gallagher, and most inspirational and class 3A M.V.P. to Cheryl Miller. The Girls' J.V. Basketball team also had a remarkable season with an overall record of 17-1, and a League record of 13-1, making them League Co-champs. Honors given to J.V. girls included most improved to Mickey Clark and M.V.P. to Barb Murphy

Girls Tennis

The 1978-1979 Girl's Tennis team had an excellent season, overpowering all the competition they faced in league play. The Ivy League champs reached the quarter finals of the C.I.F. playoffs, and sent six members into the playoffs as individuals. First singles Libby Joseph, second singles Shelley Frey, first doubles Tami Marseilles and Lulu Richardson, and second doubles Carol Paulson and Lisa West-Johnsrud all received all league honors and advanced to the quarter finals of the C.I.F. individuals. The abundant returning talent for next year's team should help the Bears successfully defend their Ivy League title.

↓ So many great wins this season
↑ Carol Paulson runs to the net to win another match
↑ Coach Pat Sneigrove races from court to court to aid her players
↑ Lisa West-Johnsrud hits powerful back-hands all season long

The varsity Girls Swim Team had another excellent season keeping the fine Poly tradition of winning by taking the Ivy League once more. The performances of each individual swimmer showed the capability of domination in swimming. The team had many strong swimmers with standouts Melanie Rile, Sippy Woodhead, Arlene Low, and Mary Roberge. Each swimmer on the team had great potential to win. The depth of the team was strong and the swimmers for next year will be enthusiastic and willing to take the League once more.

Pep Squad Put On The Boogie Shoes

This year Poly's Pep Squad made new steps in showing Poly's spirit. Pep Squad made a habit of representing all of Poly's athletic teams instead of just the traditional Football and Basketball teams. This change has definitely brought more spirit to Poly High, as is seen in the great enthusiasm shown at the numerous pep assemblies.

At city competition, Poly was well represented. The JayVee and Freshmen Cheerleaders and the mascots came home with second place trophies and the Flag and Pom Pon girls brought back first place trophies.

Julie Gatherum and Irene Macias show the enthusiasm Poly is famous for. Rhonda Mansfield poses with her stomping feet.

Against Various Odds, The Students Calculated Their Approach Toward Commencement

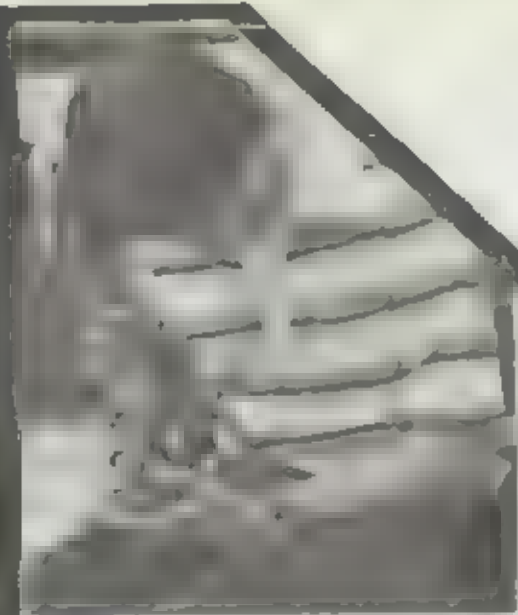

Temporarily confused Mr. Davidson can't remember which direction he is headed

On a larger scale, the world advanced in some notable directions this year. Californians experienced more modest effects of proposition 13 than were originally estimated in spring 1978, when the tax reduction bill was passed. In sports, the L.A. Rams were not especially successful, U.S.C. dominated the Rose Bowl, the L.A. Lakers advanced to the N.B.A. playoffs, and both the Angels and the L.A. Dodgers looked promising. The winter weather was cold and wet in California, the Eastern U.S., and much of Europe. Snow in Palm Springs, and excessive amounts of rain were experienced in Southern California, while violent snow storms paralyzed Chicago and London. Shocking, too, were the deaths of 2 Catholic popes within 2 months, and the bizarre mass suicide of over 900 members of "the people's Temple" in Guyana. Violence outlined another occurrence, the overthrow of Iranian government. There, the shah was forced to leave, while over 100 of his supporters were executed by the new government leader, Khomeini who created an Islamic Republic. Further, the ruthless reign over Uganda by Idi Amin ended in his flight from the country. Meanwhile, hope for Mideastern unrest came in the form of a peace treaty signed by Egyptian President Sadat and Israeli Prime Minister Begin. Finally, Nuclear power was greatly questioned due to a nuclear accident in Harrisburg, Pa. that threatened explosion, yet was fortunately solved without any harmful effects.

Poly High to you all our hearts are true
 And we'll work with heart and hand
 To spread the fame of your honored name
 Throughout the mighty land
 Though the wide world calls from
 Your well loved halls
 Where the green and orange fly
 Will our hearts grow light and our eyes grow bright
 When we sing of Poly High

Then here's a cheer from Alma Mater
 For our beloved Alma Mater
 Here's to the school of sterling worth
 Here's to the best old school on earth
 Stand up and sing and swell the chorus and let the world with praise resound
 And let the colors floating o'er us
 Never touch the ground

This is the gameboard upon which we have each planned our own routes plotted our own strategies, developed our own skills, and taken many chances during 1978-79. For some, this setting will remain the same while their directions and perspectives will change for others, this path has been completed and new fields are waiting to be explored. but for all of us. The adventures at Poly High 1978-79 are coming to a close, and we advance now to new games that are just beginning

Scholarship
Award

Although many awards are given to Poly students, these four represent what are, perhaps, the most prestigious. The Bank of America awards are given in four categories. Each plaque winner competes in a local competition for scholarships and the opportunity to participate in regional competition. This year there will be six co-valedictorians because there are six students with a 4.0 GPA. The co-valedictorians will decide among themselves who will speak at graduation. National Merit Finalists are students who score in the top one half percentile on the PSAT and score well on the SAT. California Girls State and California Boys State representatives are juniors chosen for their excellent citizenship. Each representative becomes part of a mock government so that they may learn more about our state government.

↑ Bank of America Plaque winners are: Lollo McFallis (liberal arts), David Eckmann (math/science), Craig Faucher (industrial arts), and Jeff Moore (fine arts)

→ National Merit Finalists are: Lollo McFallis, Mike Burke, Kathy Morrison, Pam Cates, and Brian Carleton

AWARD WINNERS TOOK THE PRIZE

For some the night was filled with magic; for others the night is to be forgotten as soon as possible. For the seniors present the memories will be of their last high school formal and the younger people who were present have still more proms to experience, yet none could recreate the superb prom of 1979

- ↓ Brad Lewis and Julie Baumer dance the night away
- ↓ Rick Rust and Laura Metcalf can't bear to be separated even during the fast dances
- ↓ Todd Whitson and Laura Sparks seek a more romantic atmosphere outside. The weather is perfect - the full moon shines brightly and the air is clear and warm

- ↓ Alyssa Charkow helps Mike Marsallles with the difficult task of eating cake. As the beat slows down the couples close in

“EVERY TIME I

→ The band, Giant City, provides atmosphere as well as superb dancing music
 → Mark Pede and Michele Piarallo find very little space to sit down but neither has a complaint

The 1979 prom was a huge success with 750 people present. The prom was held at the Disneyland Hotel and was planned by Doug Mackey with the help of his officers

THINK OF YOU"

The 1979 Nominating Convention was a successful combination of entertainment and education. Delegates representing each advisory class votes limiting the race for each ASB office to two candidates. The convention was organized by the 1979 ASB officers, with Leslie Sullivan and Carrie Miller directing the proceedings. Their efforts were effective, and delegates as well as candidates were able to experience the thrills and frustrations of our government system. Following the convention, was a school-wide election that determined the 1979-'80 ASB officers. These future leaders are: President, Geoff Holzrichter; Vice-President, Kevin Boling; Treasurer, Kathy Gatherum; Secretary, Liz Rines; Comm. of Publicity, Brian Crance; Comm. of Activities, Michelle Miller; Comm. of Assemblies and Intramurals, Melissa Rowe; and Comm. of Homecoming and Elections, Donara Donner.

A MOVEMENT TOWARDS A

This year Poly's Commission decided that they needed a new and better constitution. A Constitutional Revision Committee was formed so that the new constitution would be a truly Student Body constitution. The new government has a Commission, a House of Advisory, and a Supreme Court. The constitution has no details, but they are included in the "ASB By-Laws." The Supreme Court will judge cases having to do with students and the constitution and "ASB By-Laws."

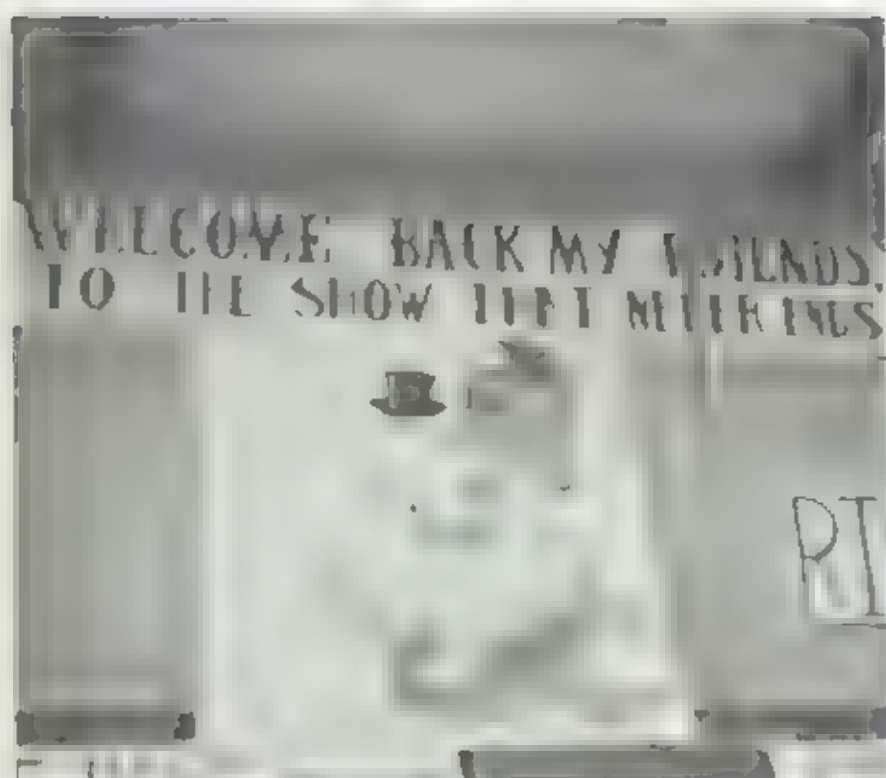

- ↑ Janice Graham and Brandon Gaut keep themselves entertained by blowing bubbles
- Geoff Holzrichter addresses the delegates with the speech that won him his nomination
- Leslie Sullivan and Shawn Binder look over the new constitution as other students vote

Geoff Holzrichter, Linda Morrow, Leslie Sullivan, Carrie Miller, Rich Rande, Carolyn Ott, and Doug Mackey did an excellent job controlling this years Nominating Convention

MORE PROMISING FUTURE

- ← Dan Kreigh and Bill Cramer combined talents to create this years theme poster
- ↑ David Eckmann, Mike Burke, and Lawrence McFalls threaten the delegates into voting for Liz Blozan
- ← Manual Villapanado, Poly's 1952 President, lectures on the importance of leadership
- ← Anthony Harper successfully guards the entrance from all uninvited guests

VARSITY BASEBALL

First: Colon Howard, Andre Boulais, John Torrenti, Rodney Couch, John Trimble, Tom Wilson, Doug Chez. Second: Rich Graves, Earl Ligon, Ted Milner, Jeff Gabrielson.

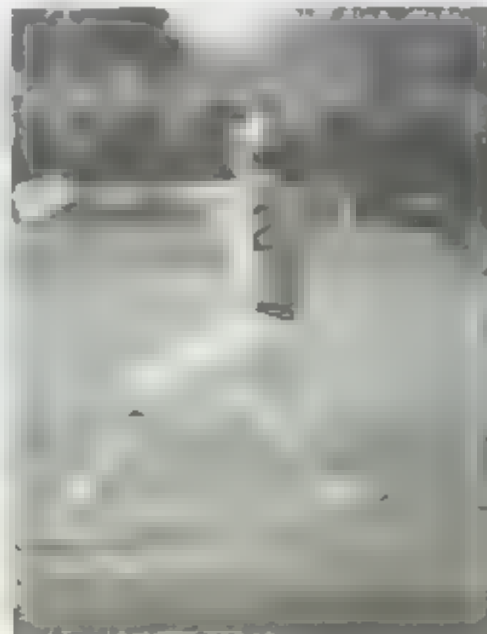

Scott Stewart, Cornell Ligon, Darryl Berg. Last: Pat Maletta, Hasten Roberts, Randy Harvey, Brad Lewis, Rick Graves, Brad Pounders, Gordon Pulsifer.

The 1979 Varsity baseball team had an outstanding season. The squad compiled a 17-7 record and a championship league record of 10-4. The Ivy Champs also captured the Riverside High Schools Baseball Classic by defeating Arlington High. Pitcher Doug Chez received All League Honorable Mention, and first baseman John Trimble made Second Team. All League First Team honors went to catcher Tom Wilson, outfielder Rick Graves, and infielder Gordon Pulsifer, while Randy Harvey received the Ivy League Most Valuable Player award. The Ivy Champs have had an excellent year, and have set an example for future teams.

BIRDIES FLEW WITH GIRLS' BADMINTON

This year's Varsity Badminton did remarkably well for such a young team, by winning nine of their ten League matches and thus becoming Ivy League champs. J.V. did equally well winning all ten of their matches. The Varsity team was stopped in their attempt to win C.I.F. by losing first round to Bolsa Grande in a rigorous match. Honors bestowed upon select team members included Most Valuable Player award to Jeanne Rust and Most Improved to Julie Endo and Sarah Terrett

TENNIS TEAM WOMPED OPPONENTS

Once again the Boy's Tennis team strove to new heights on the courts despite tough competition, over zealous fans, and wild parties. Under the superb leadership of Coach Sabens, the Varsity team amassed an overall record of 13-6 and a League record of 11-1, making them league Champs. J.V. also did well winning 16 of

The Boy's Varsity Volleyball team showed strength and potential throughout the season, even as they displayed their inexperience. The team really worked hard although this work did not always pay off. They placed third place in the all league tournament. The starters of the season were Chip Hord, Mark Lee, Larry McDonough, John Pourroy, Bruce Ward, and team captain Wayne White. The team was young, but they feel next year should be very promising, as many of their players will return more prepared and experienced.

The Boy's Jay Vee Volleyball team was weakened by their inexperience. The majority of the team were underclassmen. The starters of the team were John Bigelow, Rob Cross, John Karidakis, Charles Little, Mark Lloyd, and Mark Ward. The team had good defensive players, but they were young and it was hard for them to work with unity. Next year the volleyball team should be more experienced and thus stronger.

A HOP, A SKIP, AND A JUMP

The Boys' Varsity finished the year with a record of 2-5, while the J.V.s finished with a record of 6-1. Coach Maurer named most valuable runners as Greg Thomas who broke the school records in the 100 yard dash and the 220 yard dash, and Chris Crisman who broke the school record in the 330 yard low hurdles with a time of 39.1. Most improved was Brian Pounders.
